EMERGENCY FIRE UNIT -- Cameron Fire Dept. equipment now includes this emergency truck unit with driver Warren McCall standing by. Resuscitator, stretchers, first aid equipment, emergency lights are part of the standby materials in the truck. The Department also has added an outboard motor boat for rescue work on rivers and lakes in the county. The large pumper truck, recently turned over in a run to the fall Alcoa plant explosion, is in the background. It will be in San Antonio for a month for a new hose and ladder superstructure.

Cameron's journalism cup overflows in the New Year.

Robert Mann, 22, an alumnus of the Ol' Herald, has been named night city editor of The Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

James Hollas, another Herald alum, is planning enrollment in the University of Texas Journalism Dept., part of UT's new School of Communications, after serving as sports copy desk editor of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times.

Linda Hill, recent Herald alum, is enrolled in journalism at Texas Tech.

And Paul Freeman, of Cameron, is night wire editor for Associated Press' Texas bureau in Dallas.

107-107-107

Not of The Herald, but a contemporary, Paul gained valuable experience with UPI in Dallas, Houston and New Orleans before joining the AP bureau. He also worked parttime at The Temple Telegram, winning a second in newspaper layout there.

Robert was editor of the Sam Houston State College newspaper last year. He worked for years during high school at The Herald, later parttime for local radio and fulltime at The Telegram.

James' whole experience prior to his Corpus Christi tenure was at The Herald.

Lynda, an honor graduate of Yoe High School, worked as a Herald typesetter operator and editorial assistant for something less than a year, moved to Temple for a time as typesetter operator, then decided on journalism at Tech.

In some 10 years, The Herald has helped produce an assistant daily shop foreman, a chief map lithographer with the U.S. Army and numerous printer craftsmen. It has, through such people, won recognition from the local neighborhood to Washington.

It may have become a journalism workshop because it takes time to do what it can for the field.

It has detractors, and what doesn't, but its graduates apparently have something the world wants and, hopefully, needs.

But it is a viable institution, oldest, we're told, west of the Brazos. Maybe it has wisdom.

If The Herald is wise, it believes in the value of the individual, quality in his work and integrity of mind in solving the problems of the time.

It believes inner quality exceeds outer quantity, this perhaps the only hope of a society and world stacking people up to the skies.

It recalls the words of Eugene Pulliam, a student founder of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity, saying a journalist is "half St. Vitus, half St. Paul."

His humanity may make obscure the journalist's spirit, but when he finds unity in maturity, the spirit is served.

107-107-107

These young people know journalism is objective involvement. And 107 hopes their involvement signals the true direction of a rebellious age, one which fears "the bomb", but contains the capacity to control it.

What's ahead for 1967? What happened in 1966? Those events could well decide the turn of things to come.

Cameron continued a strong move toward downtown improvement with a 3-1 vote favoring drawing up an urban renewal program for a new downtown area, which is proposed to be a nine-block area, including dismantling the mid-town block opposite Milam Courthouse.

Industrial financing began for the first time in Cameron's history with the raising of some $63,000 plus for the Cameron Industrial Foundation.

In the county, full production and increasing employment at Alcoa kept things humming in South Milam while a cotton referendum favored almost 3 to 1 a program of promotion for the ailing industry. Cattle prices were strong.

Pick Up 3 Here

On Bench Warrants

Three Negro men, in their early 20's, have been returned to Fort Worth by Fort Worth police detectives who picked them up in Cameron Wednesday.

Sheriff Carl Black told The Herald that Ernest Lloyd, about 25, Emmett Lloyd, 22, and Curtis Chedrick, Jr., about 24, all of Cameron were taken to Fort Worth by police detectives R. H. Holloway and J. R. Brizendine.

The men were sought on warrants issued in connection with 14 cases of armed robbery in Fort Worth.

Three other men, David Jackson, Dan Brown, 22, and Raymond Fountain, all of Fort Worth, are already charged in connection with the wave of Tarrant County robberies.

Three of the men have been implicated in the shooting of a service station attendant in one of the robberies.

Black picked up the men early in the week, but said he had not realized they were implicated in such a wide number of break-ins.

4 Students Charged

With OJT Break - In

Three O. J. Thomas students were in Milam County jail Wednesday morning charged with burglary of the OJT school.

Sheriff Carl Black said the trio of teen-agers and a fourth boy being held by Houston authorities, had broken into the school Sunday night and had taken some of the athletic equipment including several football uniforms. Black said the burglary was not discovered until Tuesday when the school reopened after the Christmas holidays.

The boys being held range in age from 16 to 18, Black said.

Toys For Tots Project Brings Christmas Cheer To 50 Families

An estimated 50 families were helped through a volunteer Santa Pal project this year and Mrs. Jack Cammer said this week that they were already planning for next Christmas.

Johnny Fuller, Stanley Fikes, Mrs. Jewel Gibson and the Cammers, main volunteer workers in the project that provided toys for Cameron children, said the words of appreciation more than repaid them for the hours of work they contributed.

The Cammers donated about half of their cleaning shop for toy collection and work space when they learned that no Santa Pals or Toys for Tots program was planned in Cameron this year. They asked Sheriff Carl Black to handle cash donations and were also assisted by discounts from local merchants.

Mrs. Cammer said that cash donations provided clothes and shoes for many older children. She added that many new toys had been given by local residents as well as used toys which the volunteers painted and repaired.

Most families helped by the Santa Pals averaged 5 to 7 children, a major project of collecting, repairing and distributing, in just 3 pre-Christmas weeks. The names of needy families were provided by local welfare agencies.

The Christmas gifts were delivered Friday and Saturday and hidden from the children's view to insure a Christmas morning surprise.

6 Monday Top

Record 3 Days

In Minor Fires

A rash of grass fires which started Monday kept Cameron volunteer firemen burning, interrupting an anticipated day of TV football viewing 6 times Monday afternoon.

The grass fires continued with one reported Tuesday and two calls on Wednesday.

The six grass fires Monday were reported between noon and 7 p.m., four in rapid succession. The first call came at 12:10 p.m. for a fire at 400 East 17th quickly followed by a call to 1403 West 8th Street at 12:35. A third call to 304 S. Austin was reported at 1 p.m. and the fourth at 1:30 p.m. on the George Fisher property in Hoyte.

Firemen were called to the Country Bar in Maraksville at 4:20 p.m. where a large grass fire also damaged a trailer and some spraying equipment. The last call Monday came at 7 p.m. for a grass fire on the Slocumb property on Country Club Road.

The Cameron Fire Department fought a grass fire at Milano Tuesday. Firetruck driver Warren McCall said the fire which started about 11:30 a.m. destroyed several buildings, corrals and fences on the Lee King property south of the Milano depot.

A fire on the dump ground road brought the fire equipment out twice Wednesday. The first call came at 12:25 p.m. and the fire re-ignited about 2 p.m.

Ervin Sims Killed

In Car-Train Crash

At Bowie Crossing

Ervin E. Sims, 36, of Cameron was killed in a grinding car-train crash Saturday morning at the Bowie Street crossing in west Cameron.

Sims' automobile was struck by a Santa Fe passenger train at 10:35 a.m. Sheriff Carl Black said the car was carried about three-fourths of a mile down the railroad track before the train could stop.

Justice of Peace Jess Brock pronounced Sims dead at the scene. He ruled accidental death.

Sims was born at East Bernard and had lived in Cameron for 40 years. He was employed at the Austin State School.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Marek-Burns Funeral Home with Rev. Bob Wilber officiating. Burial was at Oak Hill Cemetery.

Shell Below 12,000 At Milam Wildcat

The Shell Oil Company No. 2 Adoue Estate was drilling below 12,000 feet last week according to depth figures released by the company, and was reported at 12,199 feet on Friday. Earlier, on Tuesday, it was drilling at 12,116 feet, and made only 83 feet of hole in four days.

This indicates the Shell deep wildcat, which is permitted to 16,000 feet or the Smackover, is encountering harder formations and slower going than in its earlier stages.

Happy new year.

TWINS SEE NEW YEAR -- John Brett, 7 pounds 4 ounces, and Rita Annette, 6 pounds 8 ounces, arrived at St. Edward Hospital, Cameron, in time to see the new year in. New Legislation To Help Milam Farm Families Obtain Housing

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration is better equipped to handle the housing credit needs of low and moderate income Milam County families as a result of legislation recently signed into law, according to Henry N. Ivey, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor.

Ivey said the Demonstration Cities and Metropolitan Development Act, signed last month by Pres. Johnson, makes possible a broader range of Milam Co. families to qualify for housing credit under expanded housing loan authorities of the Farmers Home Administration.

Ivey said the Demonstration Cities and Metropolitan Development Act, signed last month by Pres. Johnson, makes it possible for a broader range of Milam County families to qualify for housing credit under expanded housing loan authorities of the Farmers Home Administration.

The new legislation Ivey continued, makes more mortgage credit available to low and moderate income families in Milam County by increasing the level of activity of the agency's rural housing loan program.

Here are some of the other changes in the rural housing loan program administered by Milam County Farmers Home Administration:

Many Milam County families who had to go the long route of planning, contracting and building a house can now buy newly constructed buildings. Before the new legislation, these families could only purchase previously occupied buildings.

Qualified low-income families can now obtain housing credit from Farmers Home Administration on the basis of a cosigner. Previously, only those rural persons 62 years and older qualified for this assistance.

The new legislation increases from $1,000 to $1,500 the maximum amount of assistance the agency can make for emergency repairs or improvements to owner-occupied rural housing or farm service buildings. This credit is not designed to upgrade a building, but only to remove hazards to the health and safety of the family and the community.

Rural families on the verge of losing their homes through foreclosure may save their homes if a sound basis can be developed by the Farmers Home Administration to refinance their debts.

Financial assistance can be given to construct rental housing for low and moderate income rural families of all age groups. Previously, rental housing financed by FHA had to be occupied by rural people, 62 years and older.

Loans by the Farmers Home Administration are made to Milam County applicants who are unable to obtain credit they need from private lenders at reasonable rates and terms.

A Latest Poll....

A news commentator this week was noting the shift of concern among American people polled on which of the "big three" most affects the nation. Last year it was "big labor" among 41 per cent. This year it is "big government" among 49 per cent of people polled. Of course the third is "big business", whose influence was considered critical this year by only 14 per cent.

We don't know the scientific method used to take these polls, nor have we ever known anyone who was asked to participate.

But that poll result, cited by a news commentator generally considered quite liberal, follows the gist of attitude among those who discuss "a big picture".

It is becoming apparent, finally, that John Q. American, "man on the street", the guy on the way up or caught in the middle, is getting fed up with being reduced to a number and his pocketbook to a wad of credit cards, union cards, and social security cards, crowding out even his family pictures.

The thing that each of the "big three" thrives on is numbers, numbers that take away identity for dollars. And if you want to restore identity and reduce annual family migration (20 to 25 per cent of America moves each year), you somehow take away numbers.

This cannot be, the way the American system is going. But the concern of the American polled should be the concern of the American unpollled.

Red 'Inevitability' Gone....

To quote a Hong Kong correspondent: "The inevitability of communism's advance has been proved a myth."

Reports of political chaos in Red China convince the West that Mao has "over-orientated" with his Red Guard who ran amuck in mid-1966.

They ran so amuck that it appeared Mao lost control, if he ever really could control Chinese public intimidation by literally millions of students and teenagers.

The fact of a growing stalemate in Vietnam, though U.S. military strength has asserted itself, is enough to disgust Red China, so torn at home and so in need of the foodstuffs South Vietnam can yield.

Food and southward expansion are what the Viet struggle is about. China has massive food problems, just like India, though India seems to have a greater famine this year.

The American policy of containment is expensive, in fact is claiming perhaps a third of the annual federal budget, but it is working.

The Christian Science Monitor says 1966 may even be the year a new axis of Washington and Moscow was established, in history's view. Joseph C. Harsch, Monitor correspondent, points out that Washington waited while Moscow committed 200,000 tons of wheat for India before making its previous commitment.

This suggests an alliance in the East that Red China could only threaten with "the bomb", a device they have developed, but not mastered.

The irony of power politics is not so great, should the U.S. and USSR cease. Are not West Germany and Japan now our allies?

It is a bitter pill for the militant Red Chinese.

Money Problems Facing Solons

AUSTIN, Tex. Come Tuesday, Texas legislators will be back in session at the state capitol.

Pressing money matters and certain new taxes head the "worry list" confronting the lawmakers. But a broad montage of other problems on the agenda promises an interesting, high-voltage session. It is sure to be one that will continue through the full 140-day period and may even go into extra innings.

Gov. John Connally in his "state of the state" message to the solons later this month will outline spending recommendations which will require more than $100,000,000 in new taxation. Included will be his own $911,500,000 budget.

Numerous tax proposals are expected to be offered. These include expansion on the sales tax, a one-cent-per-gallon boost in gasoline taxes, a franchise tax raise and many other proposals.

Growing cities, with finance problems of their own, will occupy much of the Legislature's attention. Mayors will plug for a one-per-cent local option city sales tax. (Governor Connally prefers a rebate of gasoline tax revenues for street purposes.)

While most legislators apparently are prepared to vote for new taxes, few indicate they will support a $44,000,000 raise in state college tuitions.

Headline topics before lawmakers this year will include: Teacher pay raise -- teachers want raises ranging from $61 to $100 a month. This would cost the state some $68,000,000 a year. A majority of lawmakers are committed to some form of increase. Connally is expected to recommend much less.

Constitutional revision -- the governor and the State Democratic Party advocate revision by convention. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith favors a more cautious approach.

Legalized sale of mixed drinks and horse racing.

Annual legislative sessions.

A long-range plan for water pollution control.

A 20-percent pay raise for all state employees.

Driver safety legislation: increasing the minimum age for drivers to 16 and requiring periodic re-examination of all drivers.

Among other measures to be considered are: a minimum wage bill; an industrial safety act; increased workmen's compensation benefits; reconsideration of some provisions of the new code of criminal procedure; daylight saving time (should Texas accept it or pass a special act to retain standard time?); and a $75,000,000 bond-financed, 12-year program advocated by the governor to acquire and develop new state parks.

LIQUOR, SI; BETTING, NO.

An Associated Press Survey of Texas senators and representatives indicate that while horse-race betting again doesn't seem to have a chance in the 60th Legislature, legalized mixed drinks may.

In 1965 the Legislature let the horse-racing proposition die in a sub-committee. And the liquor-by-the-drink bill -- which has been up in every session since World War II -- was killed in committee.

Judging from its early answers to a questionnaire, AP concluded that mixed drinks have gained support, while betting seems to have lost some of its appeal. Some legislators said they would not vote for either issue and expect neither to pass. Both will again be hot issues.

On another section of the questionnaire, approximately three-fourths of the senators and representatives figured that new taxes will be in order for the 1967 session. But there was no unanimity as to what kind of taxes.

Only one senator -- Henry Grover, Houston Republican -- said he would vote for few or no more taxes. No member of the House said he would vote against new taxes. However, several legislators did say they were undecided.

GOVERNOR'S GARDEN

A statewide campaign has been launched for funds to convert the grounds around the Governor's Mansion into a garden area.

Mrs. Perry R. Bass of Fort Worth is chairman of the Mansion Subcommittee of the Texas Fine Arts Commission. She says plans call for a formal rose garden with colonial arbors, a gazebo, pools and fountain framed and surfaced with brick patios and retaining walls.

Mrs. John Connally assisted a Dallas firm in drafting plans for the garden. Project was approved by the Fine Arts Commission and members of the Texas garden clubs have pledged their help with the fund-raising. Contributions may be mailed to Mrs. Connally at the Mansion in Austin.

The Mansion has been the official residence of Texas governors since 1856.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Old Philosopher Amazed To Learn That The Russian School System Has Its Share Of Drop-Outs

Editor's note: The Old Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Yegua discovers something new about Russia, his letter this week reveals.

According to a newspaper which a neighbor had gift-wrapped a Christmas present in for me -- not too fancy but it worked -- the Russians are having a problem I never dreamed they'd have.

They've got drop-outs in their school system.

That's right. This article, after I got it smoothed out where I could read it (you ever tried to wrap potatoes in a newspaper without wrinkling it?) said drop-outs are running as high as 25 percent and the Russian officials are trying to do something about it.

This is amazing news. I had thought that every child in Russia went to a modern school, was never late, that he began studying nuclear science in the second grade and launched a rocket by the time he was 12.

I had thought that when he finished high school at the head of his class -- in fact I thought everybody over there finished at the head of his class -- he went through college in three years and then took a job in a scientific factory and complained only when he wasn't allowed to work seven days a week.

Now though that I've found out that there are such things as Russian drop-outs, I don't know what to think. You reckon the school kids over there ever have fist-fights? Don't they know they're all comrades? You reckon one of them ever complained about a school lunch? What does the Russian government do when it finds out some kids don't like Algebra? The more you think about this the more you begin to wonder about other things.

How many failures have the Russians had with satellite launchings? Do they ever have bad colds? Has the battery in a dictator's car ever failed to start?

Or how many Chinese really prefer a nuclear bomb to a bowl of rice? Or do young Viet Cong soldiers really look forward to a fifty-year war?

You reckon all the world's nations got problems too?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenza Caffey were in Rockdale Sunday afternoon visiting Mrs. Lecky Caffey, also Mr. and Mrs. Vesper Christian and family.

Cattlemen Asked For Support Of Livestock R&P

Voluntary contributions will be sought at Cameron Livestock Auction Thursday for a program of livestock research and promotion.

Dudley Campbell of San Antonio, Director of the Texas office of the National Livestock and Meat Board presented a program to livestock producers here in November pointing out the functions of the Meat Board. Milam County producers attending the meeting voted to support the voluntary Meat Board's program of research, education, information and promotion.

The program is supported by voluntary contributions of livestock growers and feeders in co-operation with participating livestock auction firms. The auction firms assemble funds on a per head basis at the time the livestock are sold at the auction barn...3 cents per head on cattle and 1 cent on hogs and sheep. Participating meat packers match these investments on the same per head basis.

Wally Eldred, Manager of the Cameron Livestock Auction, said the auction barn would assemble the funds starting with the first sale in January, 1967, and the auction firm would also contribute to the program.

Campbell said that "investments" is a more descriptive word because the cattlemen's investment in the program pays dividends in these ways: builds consumer demand for meat; strengthens the market for livestock; protects the favorable public image of his product, beef; and it informs consumers of the importance of his industry.

Judge W. A. Morrison, formerly of Cameron, has been replaced as presiding judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Governor John Connally Tuesday named Judge K. K. Woodley as presiding judge of the newly increased five-man Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Before the constitutional amendment passed by voters in November, the presiding judge was named by the then three judges of the court. Woodley has served on the court for 14 years. He succeeded Judge Morrison as presiding judge in 1961 and served until 1965 when he was replaced by Judge W. T. McDonald.

McDonald, defeated for re-election by District Judge John F. Onion in the spring Democratic primary, was reported by the Dallas Morning News to have "voluntarily relinquished the presiding judgeship in favor of Morrison" on the last day of the 1965-66 court term.

Woodley dissented last June when Morrison and McDonald voted to install Morrison as presiding judge.

Judge Morrison served as county attorney and later as district judge in Milam County before being appointed to the Criminal Appeals Court.

District Director J. W. Holland of the Immigration and Naturalization Service stated that the annual alien address report program usually causes a sharp rise in the number of applications for naturalization.

The law requires all aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, to report their addresses each January. Throughout the United States, almost thirty percent more applications for naturalization are received during the months of January, February and March than are received during other months. Holland attributes this sudden rise to the Alien Address Report Program.

Forms for making the reports will be available to aliens at all Post Offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the month of January.

A HEALTHY ECONOMY IN 1967

The national economy is expected to remain healthy during 1967 but growth potential may be closer to the long-term average, says John McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University. He emphasizes that the rate of increase in economic activity during the year ahead will depend a great deal upon the turn of events in Vietnam and their impact on other government programs and on business investments.

AN EYE ON THE WORLD

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Reluctant Bridegrooms
Shotgun weddings may be good melodrama, but they are bad law. For a marriage is a contract. "I do," if not spoken freely, is not a true consent. No consent, no contract. No contract, no marriage. A man should not be forced to choose between a wedding and a funeral. Of course, a real shotgun is seldom used nowadays. But there are plenty of lesser pressures that may push a reluctant bridegroom to the altar.

Consider a common situation. The girl faces the prospect of becoming an unwed mother.

At first the man involved is unwilling to marry her. But her family bombards him with arguments. "You have a duty toward the baby," and entreaties ("Be a man," "Do the decent thing"). Finally he yields and goes through with the ceremony. Is such a marriage valid?

Indeed it is. The pressures on the man, to choose between marriage and dishonor, are not so overwhelming as to amount to duress in the eyes of the law.

Now suppose that, in addition to such pressures, there is also a threat of criminal prosecution ("Marry our Nell or we will have you arrested"). Even then, if the man submits to matrimony, he is ordinarily bound by his decision. He has weighed the two alternatives—marriage and probable imprisonment—and made his choice. In fact, even a threat of physical violence does not always invalidate the nuptial ceremony.

Thus, a court upheld a marriage that occurred two days after the girl's brother had threatened to kill the bridegroom. The court pointed out that he had plenty of time, between the threat and the wedding, to either leave the vicinity or get police protection.

Doubt has been expressed as to the wisdom of enforcing vows so grudgingly given. But by and large, the courts see more good in it than harm. This reflects a traditional concern for the unwed mother and the illegitimate child.

"Making the fellow marry the girl," commented one judge bluntly, "seems to me the right and proper course."

Litzman Selected For Tech Training

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.
Airman Gary M. Litzman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Litzman of 1401 Clearview, Cameron, has been selected for technical training at Keesler AFB, Miss., as a U.S. Air Force communications-electronics specialist.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. His new school is part of the Air Training Command which conducts hundreds of specialized courses to provide technically trained personnel for the nation's aerospace force.

Airman Litzman, a 1965 graduate of C. H. Yoe High School, attended Temple Junior College.

or adjust their income -- with the object of reducing income taxes. Leveling income between two or more years is a common practice to avoid the increased taxes that come with a highly variable income, particularly that of farmers and ranchers. James I. Mallett, Extension area farm management specialist at Texas A&M University, explains how income leveling is done.

He said a high taxable income one year and a low taxable income another year results in higher taxes than if the same amount of the taxable income was divided equally over the two years. The reason, he said, is because of the higher percentage paid on the high-income year.

Tax rates range from 14 percent on the lowest amount of taxable income to 70 percent on the highest taxable income level, he said.

Mallett gave this example of a tax saving by leveling income. If a farmer's taxable income for one year is $15,000, but only $5,000 the next year, tax rate of the highest part of his income would be 25 percent. But, if the same farmer has a $10,000 taxable income both years, the highest tax rate would be only 22 percent. This amounts to a tax saving of several hundred dollars, he said.

By shifting income or expenses from one year to another, farmers can keep income fairly stable, he said. For instance, if income is unusually high this year, sales of crops or livestock could be delayed until the next tax year.

Or, production items for next year, such as fertilizer, seed, or supplies could be bought before the end of the current tax year and charged to this year's expenses. Each of the above help shift taxable income from this year to next year with little or no effect on total income or expenses for the two years. The leveling effect on taxable income would mean a tax saving, Mallett said.

The opposite strategy would apply if the current year's income is low and next year's income is expected to be unusually high.

Another effective way to level income from high to low years is by the fast depreciation options. There are three options available.

First is the straight line depreciation method. Here, the same amount is depreciated each year of the depreciable life of the object. Next, is the double declining balance method. It is two times the straight line rate; times the declining balance. In this method the first year depreciation is twice as much as the first year of the straight line method. Eligible assets include tangible property with a useful life of 3 years or more.

The third option is the first year 20 percent fast depreciation method. This method can be taken in addition to the double declining method or the straight line method on the remaining balance. This makes a first-year depreciation deduction of over three times the straight line method alone. Assets eligible for the first year 20 percent fast depreciation include machinery and equipment with a useful life of 6 years or more.

For complete information about requirements and limitations of these depreciation methods see IRS publication No. 225, Farmers Tax Guide, 1967 edition available from county agricultural agents or the District Director of Internal Revenue Service, suggests Mallett.

IRS PUBLICATION 308

Farmers are advised to visit their local Internal Revenue Service office or their local county agent for a copy of the latest Revenue Service booklet on income taxes. The publication contains information which every agricultural producer should have before starting work on his 1966 income forms, says James Mallett, Extension farm management specialist at Texas A&M.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Are You Mature Enough To Go Steady?

by Jane Sherrod Singe

Going "steady" is to an engagement what an engagement is to marriage. Too often, however, young people see only one person of the opposite sex because it seems "the thing to do" for one or several reasons. Based on forums of successful teenagers, here are some questions they suggest you ask yourself:

- | | YES | NO |
|---|-----|-----|
| 1. Do you seldom volunteer to head committees, to assist in group projects — in short, let others do it? | () | () |
| 2. Do you have to be reminded to pick up your belongings, keep your room clean, etc. | () | () |
| 3. Do you think the advice of older people, teachers, parents or members of the clergy is old fashioned and/or impractical? | () | () |
| 4. Generally speaking, do you feel education is a waste of time? | () | () |
| 5. Do you have several close friends among your own sex group? | () | () |
| 6. Are you unhappy when you are alone? | () | () |
| 7. Are you angry when someone occasionally uses something that belongs to you? | () | () |
| 8. Do you feel that all or most of your problems will be solved when you are married? | () | () |
| 9. Are you uneasy when you are not certain what you will do on Friday or Saturday night? | () | () |
| 10. Are you especially attracted to one person because of his or her physical appearance, clothing, car or money? | () | () |

MATURE ANSWERS: All should be NO.

ANALYSIS:

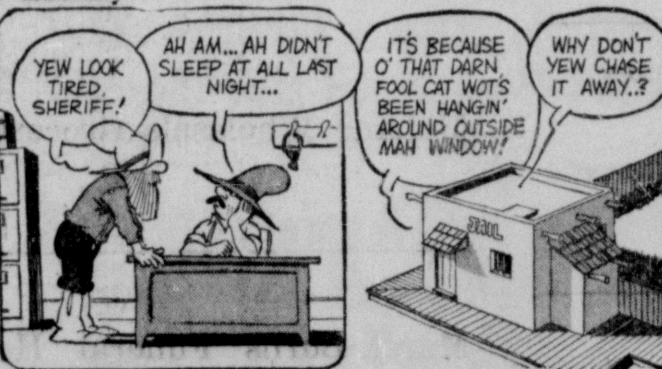

- 1 and 2: Yes-answers indicate a basic laziness. Perhaps you wish to go steady because it is easier than meeting and adjusting to several different people.
- 3 and 4: Yes-answers show a childish revolt and lack of good common sense, a disregard for the truths of life.
- 5 and 6: Mature people have close friends among their own sex group. If you do not, you are in danger of being "boy crazy" or "girl crazy." And you should have enough within yourself to be content when alone.
- 7: Small children speak of things as "mine" and "my". With maturity, people think in terms of "our" and "your". With this attitude, you may want to "go steady" for a purely selfish "mine" reason.
- 8: It seems you are looking at marriage as a rosey escape. Beware of this point-of-view.
- 9: See questions 1, 2, and 6. Do you want to go steady because you are unwilling to find many friends and are without sufficient interests of your own?
- 10: "All that glitters is not gold." (Shakespeare)
- If you missed 2 or more questions, it is likely that you should NOT consider going steady. Use your time to be with many people, to join many different groups before isolating yourself with one person. Remember, you have a long life ahead of you and the world is filled with millions of interesting people.

It's a bigger bargain today than ever before

Your telephone gives you more for your money today than at any time since Mr. Bell invented it. Pretty big statement. But it's true. There are more telephones in more places today than ever before. Two hundred million in the world; four million of them here in Texas. On the average, there are more than twice as many telephones in each of our Texas exchanges as there were 20 years ago. So it figures you can reach more people, get more things done by phone than ever before. And what about Long Distance rates? They've been going down while the cost of almost everything else has been climbing up. There've been nine Long Distance rate reductions in Texas during the past 10 years. Another thing. The quality of service has never been better. Today's phone users can talk as though they were four feet apart. Back in the early 1930's, it was 35 feet. Better service to more places at lower cost. We think that's a winning combination.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

Marksmen in a competitive pistol-shoot make the sport look ridiculously easy.

But a person who has never fired a handgun can't seem to hit the side of a barn even when all doors are shut!

Handgunning is one of the most demanding of all outdoor sports.
 But it also is one of the most fascinating.

Tin-can plinking with a pistol is a relaxing way to spend an idle afternoon in the wide-open spaces.
 But precision pistol shooting requires the utmost in concentration.
 A man who hits the target regularly forgets all his personal and business problems. And that is about as good a back-pat as you can give to any sport.

One of the best pistol shots in the business is Billie R. McElroy.
 He's the special firearms instructor who teaches every Texas peace officer to shoot. The Texas Department of Public Safety employee also is a topnotch competitive shooter.

Here's his step-by-step guide to learning to shoot a handgun:

Grasp the gun firmly in the shooting hand with the grip seated against the heel of the hand. Barrel should be a prolongation of the wrist and forearm. Your hand should be high on the grip with the middle finger under the trigger guard. Hold the grip firmly but not so tight as to cause tremors.

Placement of the feet should be relaxed and comfortable. If you are not at ease you will be forcing your shots to go in an unnatural position.

Take a stance about 45 degrees from the target, extending your arm toward the target.

Shooting hand should be fully extended toward the target, wrist and elbow locked. Other hand should be placed in your pocket in a relaxed position. Shooting arm should be slightly higher than your other arm and shoulder. But not strained into a higher position.

Your body should be erect, but not stiff. Muscles should be relaxed with the weight of your abdomen falling solidly on your lower trunk. Wt. should be evenly distributed on both legs.

Sighting itself consists of two distinct phases: sight alignment and sight picture.

Sight alignment is when front sight is centered in and level with the top of the rear sight. This is accomplished by looking at the

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many acts of kindness and love shown through personal contacts, flowers, food and messages of condolence at the death of our dear mother.

The family of Mrs. J. A. Jamison

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank our friends who helped during the illness and at the death of our mother, also we thank those who sent cards,
 flowers and food.

The family of Mrs. Esther Brasher front sight. The back sight and target will be fuzzy.

Remember, if you see the target clearly you are not looking at the front sight. Therefore, you cannot ascertain whether or not you have correct sight alignment. Any error in sight alignment will be multiplied by about 150 with the target 25 yards away.

You will not be able to hold the handgun on target, which is sight picture. But with proper grip and stance you will be able to keep proper alignment while firing.

Sight picture is sight alignment plus the target. Some shooters prefer to aim so the bull's-eye is resting right on top of the front sight; others like to center the sight on the target. Personal preference should dictate your choice.

Ideal situation is to be able to press the trigger straight to the rear without disturbing correct sight alignment and sight picture.
 Mastery of this difficult feat should not be attempted until fundamentals of grip, stance and sighting are completely understood and practiced. This will avoid developing bad shooting habits.

Release of the hammer to fire
 the handgun should be accomplished by a steady, even pressure on the trigger. Even when the sights move away from the target, the pressure should be maintained. As the sights return to target, added pressure is applied until the hammer is tripped. This can be practiced by "dry firing" - snapping the empty gun until the habit of slowly building up pressure will not disturb the sight alignment and sight picture.

Breath control also is important.
 Breathing will tend to throw you off target. Before sighting on the target, get the correct sight picture and start applying proper trigger control. Then draw a medium breath and align sights. Next, take a shallow breath and cut it off in the throat, get the correct sight picture and start applying proper trigger control. Firing should occur within about five seconds.

Don't expect any miracles in the beginning. Accurate pistol shooting requires concentration and practice. Perfection only comes after hours of dry firing, followed by actual blasting at a target.

IRS Answers-

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q - I reached age 65 this year and will retire in December. What effect will this have on my 1966
tax return?

A - Your retirement should have little effect on your 1966 tax return as you were a wage earner for most, if not all, of the year.

You may benefit from the provisions for those 65 and over, however. Anyone reaching his 65th birthday by the last day of the tax year is considered 65 for the entire year. This means you will be entitled to an additional $600 exemption on your return. Your medical and dental expenses will not have to be reduced by 3 percent of adjusted gross income as they are for taxpayers under 65.

Q - My mother was ill last year and I had to pay for a practical nurse to come in and take care of her. Since my mother is my dependent, is the nursing cost deductible?

A - The amount you pay for nursing services will be deductible as a medical expense in the situation you describe if you itemize your deductions. However, if the nurse also performed household duties, that part of her pay would not be a deductible medical expense.

If your mother is 65 or over, the deductible nursing expense is fully deductible and not subject to the 3 percent adjusted income deduc-tion.

Q - I have a small dry cleaning plant. When do I have to get W-2's to my employees?

A - The law requires employers to issue them by January 31. Many employers try to get them to employees as soon as possible after January 1 so they may file tax returns early.

Q - When will I get my 1966
tax forms?

A - The 1966 income tax forms will be mailed the last week of December so taxpayers will receive them early in January.
Forms will also be available at IRS offices after the first of the year.

Q - Our son worked at the post office last summer. He is a full-time student, so will we lose our exemption for him because of the money he earned?

A - Since he is a full-time student,
you will not lose your exemption for him if you continue to provide over half of his support.

Your son's earnings will be taxable and he must file a return
if his income was $600 or more.
A return should also be filed to obtain a refund for income tax withheld if his earnings were under $800.

Q - I just got paid for some part-time work I did at home. If I don't cash the check this year,
do I have to declare it with this year's income?

A - Income is taxable in the year it is received or is made available to you. Your check is taxable the year you get it even if you don't cash it until the following year.
The same applies to interest credited to a savings account. Interest credited to an account December 31 is taxable that year.
